

Old garages on estate to be bulldozed

GARAGES in a poor state of repair and too small to take modern cars will be demolished.

Annington Property Ltd intends to demolish a number of garages on a garage court next to 21 Kenley Avenue in Carterton.

It is in an area of MOD housing around Stanmore Crescent.

Planning documents state: "These existing garages are in a relatively poor state of repair and of a size which prevent most modern cars being able to successfully be stored within them."

A separate planning application is to be submitted providing a new car parking court with dropped kerbs for some of the properties.

There will be no loss of car parking for the estate as a whole, said Annington.
